Major achievements and initiatives 2013–14

History SA cares for the State History Collection, which reflects all aspects of life in South Australia. Objects in the collection range from colonial treasures to contemporary items. Together they tell the stories of the state. We draw on these collections to present a busy program of exhibitions, education programs, lectures, conferences, community programs and events, which combine to attract a large audience to our sites throughout the year. Visitor numbers to onsite and travelling exhibitions grew substantially this year, with record results at the National Motor Museum and the South Australian Maritime Museum. At the same time usage of our online programs continued to increase, reaching an impressive 4 700 425 engagements overall. This is an outstanding result.

Community engagement

There were 5 229 360 total engagements with our programs either onsite or online. This represented a 47% increase. (South Australia's Strategic Plan (SASP) Target 99: cultural engagement – institutions)

316 633 visited one of our sites in person, an increase of 5%.

110 000 visited an event in the About Time: South Australia's History Festival.

11 000 people attended Open House Adelaide, an increase of 57.14% (SASP Target 1: Urban Spaces).

91 154 visited one of our touring exhibitions in regional South Australia.

375 891 unique users visited one of our websites.

1 151 962 pages were viewed, an average of 3.1 pages per visitor, on History SA's websites (not including social media pages operated on other platforms).

3 548 463 (estimated) engaged in one of our social media activities, an increase of 30.5%

39 886 school children attended a booked school program at one of our three museums (Seven Strategic Priorities: Every chance for every child).

209 school teachers attended a professional development program (Seven Strategic Priorities: Every chance for every child).

24 676 people engaged with our holiday programs.

Five classes and 148 students attended History SA's video-conferencing program (Seven Strategic Priorities: Every chance for every child).

11 875 people attended one of History SA's tours and cruises.

1086 attended a seminar or lecture presented by History SA (SASP Target 93: Tertiary education and training).

156 869 people attended a program at the Migration Museum (SASP Target 5: Multiculturalism).

199 volunteers contributed 18 615 hours to History SA's programs. (SASP Target 24: Volunteering).

Public programs

History SA's three museums presented 18 new exhibitions during the year including:

- three new long-term exhibitions
- 10 new temporary exhibitions
- four new community access exhibitions
- one new touring exhibition.

History SA's three museums presented 20 education programs to guided school groups (Seven Strategic Priorities: Every chance for every child).

History SA presented regular programs in Aboriginal History to school groups and adults (SASP Target 6: Aboriginal well-being).

History SA's three museums presented 10 new holiday programs for visitors under 12.

Online programs

Four new websites were launched — the National Motor Museum website, Adelaidia, SA History Hub, and Hostel Stories website.

History SA developed an ipad interactive for the Hostel Stories exhibition.

A mobile application was developed in-house for use through the Open House Adelaide website.

History SA grew its social media engagement by 30.5% (SASP Target 99: Cultural engagement – institutions).

Collections

553 items were added to the State History Collection.

Partnerships

History SA partnered with 43 external community organisations to present exhibitions and other interpretive programs and events (SASP Target 5: Multiculturalism).

History SA partnered with each of South Australia's three universities in research programs, lectures, seminars and events.

History SA partnered with other government agencies to deliver programs. They included the Department of the Premier and Cabinet, Arts SA, Department for Education and Child Development, Reconciliation SA, South Australian Ethnic Affairs Commission, Country Arts SA, Adelaide Festival Centre, Department of Environment, Water and Natural Resources, Adelaide Botanic Garden, SA Health, Carrick Hill and institutions in the North Terrace Cultural Precinct.

Research

History SA partnered in two Australian Research Council (ARC) grants.

Administration and governance

History SA revised and expanded its policy and procedures for social media engagement.

History SA reviewed the performance and development of 100% of staff, including casual staff.

The Strategic Plan and associated Business Plans were reviewed and updated.

Police checks were completed for all History SA employees and volunteers.

Major challenges facing History SA

History SA continues to offer a busy program of exhibitions, education programs, seminars, conferences and events. However, our capacity to respond to visitor demand for comprehensive exhibitions about the State's history is limited by two main factors — insufficient exhibition gallery space and the absence of a recurrent budget for exhibitions. The Board of History SA has therefore identified the creation of a new museum devoted to the comprehensive presentation of themes in South Australia's history, and the redevelopment of the core exhibitions at the South Australian Maritime Museum, as its two principal objectives for the next five years. The State History Collection includes many wonderful treasures most of which have never been seen by the public.

Major challenges identified in organisational strategic planning include:

- projecting the distinctive stories of South Australia in the absence of a comprehensive museum of South Australia's history
- refurbishing the core exhibitions at the South Australian Maritime Museum (most installed in 1986)
- contributing to SASP targets without core operational funding for exhibitions or marketing
- maintaining and growing History SA's online programs
- funding children's enrichment programs and events
- providing storage for the State History Collection that meets national preservation standards
- meeting rising revenue targets in stringent economic times
- balancing government's community access and vibrant community objectives against requirements to increase self-generated income
- maintaining visitor numbers at the National Motor Museum and South Australian Maritime Museum in the face of competing museums with free entry, and against other forms of entertainment.

Program outcomes 2013–14

Objective 1: Public programs

Onsite exhibitions

History SA/Migration Museum

- Crossing Country: John McDouall Stuart. 3 December 2012 – 27 October 2013

Curated by Mandy Paul. Designed by Arketype.

This exhibition examined the achievements and impact of Stuart and his expedition parties, locating them within two parallel contexts — the heroic age of inland exploration and the colonisation of central Australia. The exhibition drew on the rich collections of History SA and other state and interstate collecting institutions, as well as organisations including the Royal Geographical Society of South Australia and the John McDouall Stuart Society, and private collections.

- Refugees and Australia, 1972–2012. 13 May 2013 – 22 June 2014

Curated by Mandy Paul and Vedrana Budimir. Designed by Bit Scribbly Design.

Refugees and Australia explored the history of Australia's political, legislative and community responses to refugees and asylum seekers over the past four decades. Developed following consultation with individuals and community organisations, it featured stories of perilous journeys and lives and communities remade. The exhibition included a series of map-based electronic interactives and a short film hosted on YouTube.

- Hostel Stories: Migrant Lives. 17 November 2013 – 30 September 2014

Curated by Catherine Manning. Designed by Arketype.

The Hostel Stories: Migrant Lives exhibition was developed by the Migration Museum as part of an Australian Research Council-funded research project with the University of Adelaide. The exhibition explored daily life in the hostels through first-hand accounts and personal momentos, as well as official records. Informed by original research, Hostel Stories: Migrant Lives was the first time the history of South Australian migrant hostels had been drawn together.

- Cultural Harmonies: musical notes from the Migration Museum collection

28 June 2014 – 21 September 2014

Curated by Corinne Ball. Designed by Mark Eckermann.

This exhibition explored how music was used in South Australia to represent cultural identity and traditions, and the ways music brought together people from different cultures. Cultural Harmonies drew on the Migration Museum's collection of musical instruments and ephemera, and included posters, musical scores, artworks, audio and video.

- The Visionary Lights

Part of the 2013 OzAsia Festival 13–29 September 2013

This film was produced in collaboration with Adelaide Festival Centre as part of the 2013 OzAsia Festival. The Visionary Lights was a short film about the founder of the British colony of Penang, and his son, William Light, who was the first Surveyor General of South Australia. This film was shown in the front foyer of the Migration Museum and the foyer of the Festival Centre during the 2013 OzAsia Festival.

- Hazara Women's Embroidery. 20–22 January 2014

A display of embroidery by mothers of Hazara students at Mark Oliphant College was held over two days in January in the Migration Museum Chapel. Visitors had the opportunity to see the needlework, as well as talk to the women. Demonstrations of needlework and dance were also presented.

- The Forum

This year we had another varied community program in The Forum, with old and new communities taking the opportunity to share some of their stories with the wider community. The exhibitions this year were:

- South Australia's British Farm Apprentices. The Barwell Boys and Little Brothers Association. 3 June – 31 August 2013
- Discover Bosnia and Herzegovina. Bosnian Seniors Group – the Optimists. 1 September 2013 – 10 January 2014
- From South Bhutan to South Australia. Bhutanese community. 12 January 2014 – 7 March 2015
- Latvians Looking Back, Looking Forward: the generation that followed the early Latvian settlers. Latvian Museum. 9 March – 14 June 2014
- Lace Journey to South Australia. Lace Guild of South Australia. 15 June – 15 September 2014.

- A Pop-up Museum of Childhood. 23–24 May 2014

Based around the launch of the Once Upon a Time touring exhibition about the history of childhood, a short-term display of items featured in the exhibition was presented. Members of the public also displayed items important to their childhood, sharing their stories through simple object labels and talking with others.

National Motor Museum

The museum presented no major new exhibition this year because it could not source external funding. However, smaller changing displays were presented.

- Club Space (Community Access Gallery)

Last year the museum reduced the display area for Club Space to provide additional floor space for the museum's own collection whilst ensuring sufficient space for one club at a time to display their marque.

- In October 2013, the RAA had their 110th anniversary display in the main pavilion as a 'Clubspace' display. October 2013 – March 2014
- The Holden HQ racing section of the Sporting Car Club followed the RAA. March–June 2014
- The Clubspace area in the old pavilion as at June 2014 was occupied by the Royal District Nursing Society which was celebrating its 120th anniversary. June–July 2014.

- Television and other relationships

In March 2014 the museum assisted Mr Mark Thompson (Institute of Backyard Studies) in his filming of the approaching ABC short film series, 'Henry Hoke'. The short films are to be broadcast on ABC television in five minute segments. The museum became a filming backdrop for an interview with well-known V8 Supercar driver and team owner Mr Dick Johnson. Thompson's fictional character, Henry Hoke, is purportedly responsible for a number of ingenious inventions and devices, one of which is a clockwork-powered race car. It is hoped that the vehicle will return to the museum once the series is aired.

South Australian Maritime Museum

- The Last Windjammers. 1 July – 2 December 2013
Curated by Emily Jateff. Designed by Sandra Elms.
South Australia's Port Victoria sat at one end of the longest sailing route in the world. In 1949 the windjammers Pamir and Passat sailed for Europe creaking with bags of grain. The voyage was captured by photojournalists.

- Rough Medicine: Life and Death in the Age of Sail. 23 May 2013 – 2014 ongoing.
Curated by Lindl Lawton. Designed by Arketype.
Rough Medicine explored the gruesome world of shipboard medicine from the 17th to the 19th centuries. It illuminated the shipboard life of immigrant ancestors and traced the development of health and medicine at sea which was often surprisingly in advance of medicine at home. Rough Medicine was supported by a grant from Visions of Australia program.

Rough Medicine: Life and Death in the Age of Sail

- Crayon Watercraft. 31 January – 15 June 2014
Curated and designed by Maddy Fowler, Amy Roberts and Tauto Sansbury of Flinders University and the Narungga Nation Aboriginal Corporation.
Children at Point Pearce Aboriginal Mission on Yorke Peninsula produced a charming collection of crayon drawings in 1939, illustrating the ketches and schooners that traded along the southern coast. Today those drawings highlight the role of Aboriginal people in that trade. This exhibition will be toured to other sites by Flinders University and the Aboriginal Corporation.

It was launched in May during the About Time History Festival. It will be available for loan to museums, libraries, history groups, schools and aged care facilities, which can choose to supplement the display with objects from their own or communities' collections. It will commence travelling to venues throughout the state later in the year and has already received much interest.

- The Voice of the People

This travelling display, first produced to mark the sesquicentenary of responsible government in South Australia, was presented in the Drill Hall, Torrens Parade Ground, from 26–30 May during About Time as a foretaste of the development of the South Australian Stories: Democracy Gallery.

This display was developed in partnership with the South Australian division of Australian Red Cross and curated by consultant historians Kate Walsh and Yvonne Routledge. Good and Useful Work was supported by a grant from the federal government's Your Community Heritage program. It opened as a month-long exhibition, including objects from Red Cross, at the State Library of South Australia, from 8 May 2014, and then started its tour of regional and metropolitan Red Cross branches and community venues. A second copy of the display was printed by Red Cross to use during commemorative activities during the year.

- Vote Yes: the 1967 Referendum

Vote Yes: the 1967 Referendum, was produced in partnership with Reconciliation South Australia, as part of the commemorations for the 40th anniversary of the 1967 referendum on the constitutional status of Indigenous Australians. The display was launched during Reconciliation Week in May 2006.

Visited: City of Tea Tree Gully Library. 23 May – 6 June 2014

Touring exhibitions in preparation

Budgetary restrictions meant that several of History SA's existing travelling exhibitions could not be refreshed for regional touring this year. This impacted on visitor figures. It is hoped to rectify this in the next financial year, as demand for the displays remains strong in regional South Australia. However, the following new national touring exhibition was completed with funding from the Visions of Australia program.

- Rough Medicine: Life and Death in the Age of Sail opened at the South Australian Maritime Museum on 23 May 2014 and it is hoped that the exhibition will tour nationally from 2015.

Festivals and major events

- About Time: South Australia's History Festival. 1–31 May 2014

Approximately 110 000 people participated in the History Festival this year, attending 487 events presented by 301 event organisers. The Festival included activities in all South Australian tourism regions, and in the lead-up to the event an 'Ideas Exchange' was held to help organisers with their planning. Two 'family-friendly' workshops were presented, one in Adelaide, and the other in regional SA. A workshop for teachers was also held, to exchange ideas on incorporating events in the History Festival program into their teaching plans. This workshop was also held in a metropolitan and a regional location. In addition to producing the program, History SA also created a new stream of activities, Bar Yarns: History in the Pub, which proved popular with event organisers and participants. Other pull-through sections of the program included 'family-friendly' activities and International Museum Day.

- Open House Adelaide. 3–4 May 2014

Contributing to making Adelaide a vibrant city.

Working with an Advisory Group of architectural professionals, this event was presented in its own program in 2014, rather than as an addition to the About Time program. Seventy-eight buildings were open and 11 000 visits were recorded. In addition to the new program booklet, History SA developed a smart phone app to assist visitors to explore what was on offer during the weekend. A team of 79 volunteers, this year decked out in 'Open House Adelaide green', was assembled and contributed 310 hours to assist building owners over the weekend. This year family-friendly activities were added to the Open House Adelaide program, with a family hub located at the Migration Museum. A very successful activity — build your own city from found and recycled objects — transformed the Migration Museum's Chapel over the course of the weekend.

- Bay to Birdwood Classic. 29 September 2013

The 2013 Bay to Birdwood Classic was held on 29 September. With the help of a new website, the event attracted 1617, 1956–77 vehicle registrations and 9989 visitors. The Governor of South Australia, His Excellency Rear Admiral Kevin Scarce, once again supported the event by presenting the prizes, including the Concours d'Elegance trophy to Anthony Perre owner of a 1967 Chevrolet Chevelle. This event took an amended route up the South-Eastern Freeway and along the Onkaparinga Valley.

- Bricktopia. 17–18 May 2014

On 17 and 18 May 2014, in conjunction with Southern Bricks LEGO Users Group, the National Motor Museum, supported by the South Australian Maritime Museum, staged a transportation-related theme event, Transport, Past, Present and Future, at Torrens Parade Ground. This was a new departure for the National Motor Museum and we were delighted with the response. Some 8708 visitors attended over the two days.

- Rock and Roll Rendezvous. 13 April 2014

The 23rd Rock and Roll Rendezvous, held on Sunday 13 April at the National Motor Museum, was MC'd by the Feonander Brothers. In addition to having the opportunity to explore the museum's collections, 4078 people enjoyed viewing the 395 registered vehicles, live music, catering, fashions and children's entertainment on the day. The event also secured a new sponsor, The Retro Clothing Company, and continued to retain the support of the main sponsor, Eastside Automotive. A new award for Best Club Display was introduced, sponsored by the Street Machine Association of SA.

- Three Weddings and a Cook. 15 September 2013

This event, held as part of the 2013 OzAsia Festival, was produced in close collaboration with the Malaysian Club of South Australia. It presented demonstrations of three wedding ceremonies — Chinese, Indian and Malay — along with cultural performances and demonstrations, under a marquee in the Migration Museum courtyard. Celebrity chef Poh Ling Yeow presented cooking demonstrations in the Chapel area. Approximately 2000 people attended the museum on the day.

- Adelaide Fringe Festival. 1–8 March 2014, 28 February 2014

The Migration Museum again offered itself as a venue for the Fringe, hosting two events: [Disordered] Action of the Heart, a play about a soldier of the First World War, presented by One of a Pair theatre group, 1–8 March 2014, and Jonathan Prag Classical Guitar on 28 February 2014.

- Tall Ships Visit. 28 September – 1 October 2013

Three Dutch and one English tall ships visited Port Adelaide. They were joined by South Australia's own Falie and One & All to produce a spectacle that brought 39 000 people to Port Adelaide. The South Australian Maritime Museum, working with the Australian Sail Training Association, brought the ships to Port Adelaide and, in partnership with Renewal SA, produced a public event to celebrate their visit.

- The Port Festival. 19–20 October 2013

The South Australian Maritime Museum presented Haunted in which actors played the roles of historical characters in the museum's exhibitions. The museum also offered cruises on the tug Yelta and tours of the Torrens Island Quarantine Station. With sponsorship from Flinders Ports, the Museum offered free admission, 12 000 people visiting the Maritime Museum in two days, making it the busiest weekend in its history.

- Talking History Lecture series

The 2013–14 Talking History program presented in partnership with the University of South Australia, saw eight lectures on a variety of topics, from 'Aboriginal Adelaide's Cultural Landscape' in July, (timed to coincide with NAIDOC week), to Professor Emerita Margaret Allen speaking on 'Forgotten Connections: India and South Australia, 1880s–1940s', (presented jointly with the Adelaide Festival Centre's 2013 OzAsia Festival) and Dr Dino Hodge on 'Asio, Don Dunstan and the Cold War in South Australia' on 27 May, co-hosted by Professor Emerita Susan Magarey and listed in the About Time program. The lecture series continues to be popular, and the variety of the program and range of partners succeed in attracting new audiences.

The lectures were:

- Karl Telfer & Gavin Malone, 'An Aboriginal Adelaide Cultural Landscape', 10 July 2013, NAIDOC Week
- Dr Julia Szuster, 'Talking & (Performing) History: Carl Linger's Missing Legacy', 14 August 2013
- Professor Emerita Margaret Allen, 'Forgotten Connections: India and South Australia, 1880s–1940s', 17 September 2013
- Professor Chris Daniels, 'Sustainable Development: Oxymoron or Opportunity?', 9 October 2013
- Professor Catherine Speck, 'Close Encounters with the Second World War through the Eyes of Women Artists', 6 November 2013
- Dr Philip Butters, 'Adelaide: a Literary City', 23 April 2014

- State History Conference – *She said, he said; reading, writing and recording history.

21–24 September 2013

She said, he said; reading, writing and recording history, the joint 21st State History Conference and Biennial National Conference of the Oral History Association of Australia, was held from 21 to 24 September 2013. Two hundred and forty-one delegates from all states of Australia, New Zealand, and one from China, enjoyed seven pre-conference tours, three days of parallel sessions of papers and presentations, and five workshops. The keynote speakers, Professor Rina Benmayor from California State University and Professor Marian Quartly from Monash University, delivered thought-provoking papers that helped shape discussion throughout the conference. The conference was presented as a partnership between History SA, the Oral History Association of Australia and David Unaipon College, University of South Australia.

- Bound for South Australia video conference program

For a week in April, the Bound for South Australia video-conference program was offered to primary schools. Many more primary schools are now able to connect to video-conferencing, and this 45 minute program proved popular with those who came on board.

At the Migration Museum

At the South Australian Maritime Museum

- Bastille Day. 14 July 2013

The French community, led by Honorary Consul Sue Crafter, produced a very successful event at the Maritime Museum to mark La Fête Nationale (Bastille Day). Over 300 guests enjoyed our exhibition Terre Napoleon: Land of Napoleon, presenting original artwork from Nicolas Baudin's 1801–03 voyage exploring Australia.

- Baudin and Flinders breakfast. 4 April 2014

The first event of the Adelaide Food and Wine Festival, the breakfast recalled the breakfast meeting between Matthew Flinders and Nicolas Baudin at Encounter Bay in April 1802. A long table of 150 guests dined on a menu created from foods that the explorers either carried with them, or foraged on our shores.

- First Order History in the Pub. 16 May 2014

As part of About Time, author Garry Searle discussed the history of lighthouses, their design, construction and function, as well as the human stories of the engineers, builders, lightkeepers and their families living in isolation.

- Torrens Island Quarantine Station tours. Ongoing

Held throughout the year, visitors were led through the disused quarantine station with buildings dating from 1879 to the 1920s. They followed the process of quarantine, visiting the fumigation building, bathing block, steam plant, bungalow accommodation, isolation hospital and morgue.

- Yelta steam cruises. Ongoing

Yelta, the last working steam tug in South Australia, carried passengers on tours of the Port River to see the working port, the industrial and the natural environments. With a triple expansion steam engine, riveted plating and timber and brass fittings, Yelta reflects the charm of generations of steamships.

- Weave Your Way. 6–21 July 2013
 Visitors were able to pick up a free cardboard loom and a selection of wool. Using the intricate designs of some of the weavings on display in the museum, visitors were encouraged to try their hand at traditional weaving. For children between 5 and 15 years.
- Family Trees. 8–11 October 2013
 As part of the Every Generation Festival, family groups were given an opportunity to explore some of the traditions that have been passed from generation to generation and to create a family tree.
- Board games. 6–24 January 2014
 Every culture has its own version of board games. Visitors were able to choose from a selection of games at the front counter and play under the museum's gazebo. For children between 5 and 15 years.
- Migrating Stories. 16 and 23 April 2014
 The Migration Museum is full of fascinating stories from all around the world. Members of staff selected some of their favourite stories from picture books and the museum's displays to share with visitors in the galleries. For pre-schoolers.

At the National Motor Museum

- Scalextric program. 6–21 July 2013, 30 September – 13 October 2013, 13 December 2013 – 26 January 2014, 14–27 April 2014
 The custom-designed Scalextric Car Racing Circuit was available to Out of School Hours Care groups during the school holidays. The track allows teams of up to six students at a time to test their skills and compete with each other in a safe and exciting environment. This program is complemented by a hands-on LEGO design and 'build a car of the future' activity.
- Junior Drivers' Licence Program. 1 July 2013 – 30 June 2014
 A Junior Driver's Licence program continued as an ongoing activity for children, encouraging them to engage with the vehicle collection by completing a trail and designing their own Australian car. On completion of the trail, they were provided with a Museum Junior Driver's Licence.

- Bricks on Wheels LEGO Fan Expo. 4–5 January 2014

The museum's January school holiday program incorporated a LEGO exhibition weekend in conjunction with the Southern Bricks LEGO Users Group. This was very successful with 6 180 people visiting the museum over the weekend. The holiday program incorporated a competition for children to build a vehicle using LEGO provided by the museum. This attracted a total of 1800 entries. Whilst boosting numbers for the museum was a positive outcome, it was also good to see families engaging with the collection of vehicles and enjoying the creative challenge. The two winners of the two age group categories won a $250 LEGO gift voucher and LEGO trophy.

- Drive Down Memory Lane. 14 April 2014

As part of the museum's April school holiday program four of the Driven Collection vehicles were taken out of the museum and used to give visitors rides around the museum grounds. Some 1800 visitors took advantage of the opportunity. As the museum was required to consider the Work Health and Safety (WHS) implications of this program, two staff members were trained by South Australian Police in Roadworthy Vehicle Inspections. The museum's WHS Coordinator Chris Ginn spent considerable time in designing and documenting the relevant procedures. This was a labour-intensive program, but thoroughly enjoyed by our visitors as well as providing us with the opportunity to demonstrate collection vehicles in operation.

- University Education. 14 April 2014

An inaugural, we hope, education session was held in conjunction with the University of South Australia Industrial Design Department. Sixty first year students visited the museum to see how the design and development of the motor vehicle has been influenced by changes in technology and design. As a result of student feedback from the visit, lecturer Peter Schumacher is keen to continue this association.

At the South Australian Maritime Museum

- Shipwrecked: Search for Peter Pan. 8–19 July 2013

The show presented a musical misadventure using the ketch Active II and the ambience of the Bond Store galleries as its stage.

- Dig It! Archaeology for Active Kids. 30 September – 11 October 2013

Budding archaeologists excavated shipwrecks buried in sand, pieced together broken artefacts and discussed how archaeology can shed light on the past.

- The Pirate Show. 6–24 January 2014

The shows were filled with magic, cannon-ball juggling and pirate songs aplenty. Children learnt sailing and pirating skills, including the pirate's alphabet. It was a swashbuckling tale with more twists and turns than a monkey's tail.

- Survivor. 14–27 April 2014

Young adventurers were challenged: could they survive the age of sail? They collected survival kits, navigated their way, decoded messages, solved problems and learnt seafaring skills.

Education programs

History SA is fortunate to have the services of two dynamic Education Managers from the Department for Education and Child Development (DECD). They present varied programs throughout the year at the Migration Museum and South Australian Maritime Museum. Their priority this year has been to ensure that all programs are aligned with the new national curricula — especially that in history. The National Motor Museum also presents several programs, although without the assistance of a resident Education Officer. The programs presented included:

At the Migration Museum

At the National Motor Museum

The museum's two ongoing education programs, Legoworks and Motorworks continued to be popular with schools. New websites launched

National Motor Museum

The new National Motor Museum website was launched in October 2013. This was the last of the museum sites to go live, completing the first phase of redevelopment of History SA's online presence. As with the other museum sites, the National Motor Museum website has full interactive functionality and provides users with museum visitor information, curatorial blogs, collection profiles, multimedia libraries, exhibition and event details and research projects.

Adelaidia

The Adelaidia website went live in December 2013 and was launched officially in February 2014, with the release of the Adelaidia app. Artist Peter Drew wrapped the King Edward VII monument as part of the launch promotion, demonstrating how the city's history is often obscured and sometimes forgotten. The website has had 74 412 page views to date with an average four pages per visit, demonstrating significant initial interest and the potential to further engage audiences through this platform. With associated social media exposure, we estimate a total reach of 750 000 interactions.

The Adelaidia and SA History Hub sites, designed responsively (optimised for desktop, tablet and mobile devices) and an associated mobile application, allow users to access rich historical and multimedia content on their mobile devices, while situated within the Adelaide CBD. Both websites and the mobile app are highly interactive.

The Adelaidia app featured in the About Time program this year with tours led by Keith Conlon. Over the next year we will continue to develop content with a focus on app tours and encouraging visitor contributions. There were 1200 downloads of the Adelaidia app to 30 June 2014.

SA History Hub

The SA History Hub website went live in April 2014. The site has been given a soft launch and Online Programs will be working with curators and the Community History team to generate more extensive Adelaide history and regional content before undertaking any significant promotion. While visits to date are limited, due to the recent timeframe and lack of promotion, those who have visited the site spent an average of eight minutes and visited an average of just under eight pages, demonstrating a significant level of engagement with the content.

The SA History Hub and the Adelaidia websites, along with the Adelaidia app, were designed and built by GLO Digital. Web Developer Oliver Scholey now maintains and develops the code for the websites and app for History SA. Adelaidia was shortlisted for an award in the GTR Mobile App Innovation for Government and the Public Sector Award.

Hostel Stories

The Hostel Stories website, a sub-site of the Migration Museum website, went live in November 2013. The website provides the core exhibition content for the Hostel Stories research and exhibition project in an online format, and builds on this with further stories and images for visitors to explore. This can continue to grow once the exhibition has finished, providing a longer-lasting resource for visitors enquiring about migrant hostels in South Australia.

Online Programs also worked with curators to develop an ipad interactive for the Hostel Stories exhibition. The interactive allows users to browse detailed information on the individual South Australian hostels, allowing much more in-depth content to be incorporated into a small exhibition space. This interactive also enables the main exhibition to be organised by theme in an engaging format that is complemented by the site-specific information in a context that is not overwhelming or cluttered.

New websites in development

History SA corporate

Concept planning and redesign for the corporate site was completed for launch in late 2013. As part of a strategic move towards making online content fully accessible across all platforms and devices, the new corporate site has been redeveloped with responsive design. This means that the site scales appropriately and is optimised for desktop, tablet and mobile users. It will draw content from all other History SA sites.

First World War blog

A World Away will launch in August 2014. Using diary entries and newspaper reports from the First World War, this blog will follow the lives of South Australians in their war-time experiences, including those on both the homefront and battlefield. Posts will be monthly, in a similar concept to the Bound for South Australia project, with visitors able to follow contributions to the blog by particular sources over time. Content is being curated by the Community Engagement team in partnership with the State Library of South Australia, where the majority of the source material is held. Pixel Press worked on the web build, Arketype on the design.

Passengers in History [working title]

Online programs continue to work with the South Australian Maritime Museum to produce a website based on the Log of Logs publication. The website will incorporate Lloyds Register data and in the long term be combined with the South Australian Maritime Museum's Passengers Database to provide a rich resource of shipping records related to South Australia. The website will be interactive, using a micro-volunteering model to engage online users in the transcription, tagging and cataloguing of genealogical and shipping records relevant to the Passengers Database. Web developer Oliver Scholey has completed scoping the project and planned the basic site structure, while volunteers have completed data entry and editing for ships A–L. The site will be built in-house and plans are to launch with ships A–L later in 2014.

Other projects

Bricktopia

The National Motor Museum's Bricktopia LEGO Fan event website went live on Monday 10 March. It promoted the LEGO event in May 2014 and provided for the registration of Stall Holders and Traders. Online ticketing was managed successfully through the TryBooking system, with digital scanners at the door. The event provided a model for future use of online ticketing sales, with the TryBooking system proving effective in managing and monitoring ticket sales on a large scale.

First World War Symposium

A web presence for the August 2014 symposium South Australia on the Eve of War was created by modifying the website built for the State History Conference in 2013. The ability to use this structure to continue to offer online registrations and payments for History SA events allows staff to manage events more effectively and integrates working processes with History SA's online presence.

Open House Adelaide

For the second year an Open House Adelaide mobile application was developed for use over the weekend of the event in May. Built in-house using free web application tools, the app was made available for download through the Open House website. Open House Perth has approved us to use the structure of the app.

Intranet

In general Online Programs has worked to consolidate History SA's online presence and to enable staff in all areas of History SA to manage their online content effectively. The establishment of an intranet site, built in-house by Web Developer Oliver Scholey, has facilitated better shared data management for the Log of Logs and Settlement Square projects. The intranet site is also working to assist training of History SA staff in managing online content. Documentation of content creation and monitoring of visitor comments is being stored on the intranet as Online Programs staff train other staff and identify areas of need.

Building on the Intranet capacity a support 'ticketing system' was rolled out to History SA staff in October. This enables the Online Programs team to manage and respond more efficiently to support requirements across History SA, maintaining a log of ongoing support issues and actions taken, and providing documentation of past issues.

Other projects in development

Settlement Square

A new, web-compatible, database is under development to replace the current Settlement Square database at the Migration Museum. Triple Zero and Heath Vogt are working on the database build and design respectively, with guidance from Web Developer Oliver Scholey. The new database will update the existing program for use in the Migration Museum foyer, enabling visitors to search for information on family histories and to locate Settlement Square pavers in a more intuitive, redesigned interface. In addition, phase two of the project will streamline workflow related to the administration of the Settlement Square program. There is potential to incorporate this database with other online content in the future, for example linking it to the 'Passengers in History' project, but there are no plans to do this until further discussion has taken place with Migration Museum Foundation members.

Rough Medicine Interactive

Web Developer Oliver Scholey is working with the South Australian Maritime Museum curator Lindl Lawton on a mobile-based interactive for the exhibition Rough Medicine. The interactive will test History SA's capacity to use ibeacons in a gallery setting to engage visitors with exhibition content in a new format. There is potential to develop this further to aid in gathering visitor statistics and other information through mobile data.

Social media activity

History SA has worked to consolidate its social media presence in 2013–14. The main platforms in use across divisions and for a number of specific projects are Facebook and Twitter, with a 54% increase in followers on these platforms alone. YouTube and Flickr continue to be used for sharing videos and photos respectively, with a 235% increase in views on these platforms in the last financial year. In addition to these core platforms, Instagram has been used to run a successful photo competition during Open House Adelaide, and there has been some use of Vimeo, soundcloud and tumblers in developing online content.

Program outcomes 2013–14

Objective 2: Collections

At 30 June 2014 the State History Collection consisted of 51 343 objects or groups of objects, reflecting all aspects of life in South Australia since 1836. There were 480 acquisitions formally accessioned during the year, mostly with the assistance of collection volunteers at each of the museum sites.

Notable additions to the collection included:

- a writing box presented to L Grayson in 1873 in recognition of his contribution to the winning of the 8 hour day in South Australia
- items from SA Unions including a collection of badges and ribbons
- papers relating to imprisonment for resisting the draft during the Vietnam War from Chas Martin
- a large donation of material from a Hungarian tailor
- a suitcase used by an internee at Loveday during the Second World War
- material relating to the founding of Santos and the early development of gas production in South Australia
- two costumes from a children's performance in 1954 for the visit of Queen Elizabeth II
- collection of material relating to the Molinara Social and Sports Club.

Collection management activities

Directorate and Migration Museum

A re-alignment of programs and resources from January 2013 combined the Migration Museum and Directorate collections and exhibitions into one management team. The new team oversaw an extensive re-organisation of the Netley and Hindmarsh storage areas, to maximise use of space. Although conditions in the Hindmarsh store are far from ideal, the additional space has reduced pressure on the very limited store at Netley. History SA continues to work with other portfolio colleagues to advocate for a shared collection storage facility that meets national standards of collection care.

Collection management activities were curtailed for three months from March 2014 due to the impact of building works on the Police Barracks, where collection accessioning takes place.

National Motor Museum

The curatorial team continued to manage the significant collection of vehicles, memorabilia and other objects in its care. The Acquisitions Committee reviewed many offers of loans and donations, assessing all offers to ensure that the displays remained fresh, whilst also reflecting Australia's rich and diverse motoring past.

The museum has accepted the significant donation of a 1925 Rolls Royce 20hp with Vanvooren 4 Door Sports Coupe body. The car was donated to the museum under the Federal Government's Cultural Gifts Program by Dr Oliver Mayo. This vehicle, with its unique body, has excited considerable interest amongst the Rolls Royce fraternity, as it has not been seen much in the last couple of decades and continues to be a standout attraction wherever it is shown.

In association with the museums public program, Drive Down Memory Lane, and in conjunction with its responsibilities to vehicle sponsors, the curatorial team has continued to undertake maintenance on specific vehicles, these being the 1959 Chrysler Royal (sponsored by SGIC Insurance), the 1925 Ford Model A, 1948 Chevrolet Stylemaster and 1955 MG Magnette.

The long-term storage, mostly static, of the collection continues to provide the museum with both practical and resource challenges, as the vehicles require ongoing care. Certainly as the modernity of our collection increases, 'static' storage of the collection will produce further long-term challenges, particularly in the area of vehicle electrical systems.

Curatorial staff continue to manage a large number of requests for information about the collection and automotive history in general, ably assisted by a team of research and library volunteers, Wolfgang Warmer, Chris Bennett, Richard Sage, Denis Basson, Darryl Grey and Peter Stopford. This year saw the unforeseen retirement of the museum's volunteer Photo Librarian, David Richardson, who has for a number of years provided sterling service in cataloguing and transferring data to electronic medium of much of the museum's photo stock. His position has been ably replaced by Birdwood local and university student Ms Gabrielle Sexton. The museum was also sad to see the retirement of two long-serving workshop volunteers, Mr Brian Chesson and Mr David Manson, who between them have given in excess of 40 years' faithful service to the museum in the restoration, servicing and preparation of collection vehicles.

Although still technically a collection item, the museum's much-loved and well-used 1928 Chevrolet photo car is in the process of receiving a much-needed cosmetic makeover. The assistance of Mt Pleasant Crash Repairs and Quality Motor Trimmers has been gratefully received in relation to this project.

The museum has also, on order, a Stringo vehicle mover, which has been purchased as a result of an WHS audit on the movement of vehicles within the pavilions. This industry standard, battery-powered vehicle mover will provide the staff with a safe and effective means of moving the smaller vehicles within the pavilions. It remains to be seen whether a larger Willmat heavy vehicle mover will be required for the larger commercial vehicles currently in storage and/or on display.

South Australian Maritime Museum

Much collections management at the South Australian Maritime Museum was directed to producing exhibitions. Volunteer Gabby Sexton assessed, recorded and repaired archaeological artefacts from excavations in Port Adelaide, preparing them for a new core exhibition, Living in Port, which was scheduled to open in July 2014.

Curators continued their program of reviewing the collection and some 87 items were deaccessioned. The review is important in refining the collection and ensuring that conservation resources are well directed.

While most of the Maritime Museum's collection is stored offsite, a secure store was established in the exhibition building to accommodate objects donated at the museum or awaiting installation in new exhibitions.

Collection preservation

History SA appreciates the work of Artlab Australia in assisting to preserve the State History Collection. This year 325 collection objects were treated. Additional Artlab services included environmental monitoring and integrated pest management.

The timber launch Archie Badenoch and the steam tug Yelta were docked for their biennial maintenance and survey. Due to deterioration, timber decking over the crew accommodation on the tug was lifted for perhaps the first time since the vessel was built in 1949. The steel deck was found to be in good condition and the timber will be replaced.

Objective 3: Partnerships

Community History Program

Community Museums Program Grant Fund ($150 000 per annum)

The grant round opened on 12 August and closed on 27 September 2013. This fund is available to registered and accredited museums within South Australia only.

Twenty-seven applications were received, from 24 museums. Total funding requested was $180 963.38. Two further applications were submitted early in 2014 and also approved for funding.

Outcomes in 2013–14 included:

- enhanced access to collections through digitisation, database and telling history projects that make use of interactive digital technologies
- provision of equipment and storage facilities for collections management
- conservation and assessment of significant collection items.

South Australian History Fund ($35 000 per annum)

This fund continues to be hugely over-subscribed and History SA can support only a small number of the projects seeking assistance.

The grant round opened on 3 June and closed on 22 July 2013. Twenty-one projects were funded, including 13 projects, four research projects and four publications. Sixty-eight applications were received seeking total funding of $168 281. This is the highest figure ever sought from the fund. The full list of grants awarded is listed at appendix 12.

Community History website (www.community.history.sa.gov.au)

Activity on this website continues to grow and it is seen as a very useful resource by the community history sector. Outcomes for 2013–14 were:

- 42 311 user visits, an increase of 28%
- 180 organisational profiles contributed by community organisations, an increase of 20%
- the professional services directory has 61 providers listed, an increase of 15%
- 37 blog posts made by History SA and community organisations who use the site to create their own blogs
- 23 news stories generated by History SA.

Program outcomes 2013–14

Objective 3: Partnerships (cont)

Community History Program

Community History and Museums Network

Staff continued to work closely with museums registered or accredited in the Community Museums Program (CMP), assisting with their specific projects and providing advice and skills development opportunities to allow them to continue to meet the CMP standards. A network meeting was held at the Aviation Museum in February.

During the year the St John's Museum joined the program as a registered museum bringing the total number of registered and accredited museums to 62.

Fieldwork encompassed most regions, particularly Eyre Peninsula, Mid-North, South-East, Riverland Barossa and Yorke Peninsula.

Continuous advice, assistance and support in all aspects of museum work, including collections management and care, undertaking historical projects and the practice of history, was delivered to the broader community history network.

Outcomes in 2013–14 included:

- hands-on assistance with major interpretation projects at Loxton, Burra and Beachport
- a range of practical history and museum specific skills development opportunities
 - Caring for Collections was run at Clare (with funding through an Office for Volunteers program) and on Eyre Peninsula (with funding from the Community Heritage Grants program)
 - Digitisation for Preservation and Access was offered twice in Adelaide to both metropolitan and regional participants
 - Two workshops were presented about Care of Textiles and the Australian Dress register, one of which was held during the About Time History Festival
 - Display Labelling on a Budget for City of Charles Sturt Heritage Network

These workshops attracted 185 participants.

National Standards for Museums Taskforce

Staff continued active involvement with the National Standards for Australian Museums and Galleries Taskforce and are working with the Powerhouse Museum to partner in the national expansion of the Australian Dress Register.

All 10 films were launched at a screening event during About Time 2014 and made widely available, along with supporting historical material, through a sub-site of the South Australian Community History website. The project was funded by the Australia Council. The Telling Our Stories project model of using community historians in tandem with an experienced filmmaker has set a new standard for digital storytelling as a meaningful and enriching way of exploring and relating aspects of local history to personal stories and historical objects.
- State Library and Artlab Australia, to develop and deliver a Digitisation for Preservation and Access workshop, which was enthusiastically received by the broader history/museums network
- Artlab Australia, to deliver Caring for Collections in Clare and Port Lincoln, a Care of Textiles workshop and costume collections projects at Millicent and Tanunda

Other general partnership programs

- The National Motor Museum continued to receive cash sponsorship and support from the Royal Automobile Association of South Australia. In addition to this partnership, the Museum secured in-kind support from a variety of businesses, by way of substantial discounts on materials and services, including engineering supply firms such as ASTEG, and other automotive suppliers such as YHI Power.
- Each year the National Motor Museum aims to promote its collection, extend its audience and support the historic motoring movement by having a presence at external events. This year the museum, in partnership with Rotary Club of Adelaide and the Perth-based Automotive Events Management Ltd, assisted in organising a new event called The Celebration of the Motorcar. This event follows on from a successful format instituted in Perth by Automotive Events Management Ltd. This year's inaugural event was held at Carrick Hill.
- As part of the Motor Museum's ongoing sponsorship commitment to SGIC Insurance, the 1959 Chrysler Royal was displayed at the 2014 All Chrysler Day at Urrbrae College.
- This year the museum was also represented at the Bendigo Swap Meet in November 2013, and the All British Day in February 2014.
- The museum continued its partnership with Bridgestone Australia Ltd for the loan of a 2004 Formula 1 Ferrari show car. This vehicle was shown at events around the state, including the Sporting Car Clubs of South Australia's Motorsports In The Park event. In this endeavour the museum has been ably assisted by Mr Marino Labrosciano from Veloce Motorsports Ltd in transporting the vehicle to and from these events.
- Collectable Classics has continued to service their three year sponsorship proposal to support the National Motor Museum's programs. History SA's technical services provider, Subnet, continued to assist with repairs and maintenance to the Scalextric track in the Education Centre. The museum is grateful for the support, which ensures that this aspect of our services continues to attract and entertain school and corporate groups.
- The museum hosted a session in conjunction with the School of Art, Architecture and Design University of South Australia on 14 April.
- Curator Matthew Lombard conducted tours with Peter Schumacher and Ron Corso for 60 first year Industrial Design students, focusing on the history of automotive design and manufacturing. The museum looks forward to fostering a partnership with the Industrial Design teaching staff and running similar sessions in future years.
- The National Motor Museum was selected as one of the venues in the 2014 Regional Story Telling Heroes initiative, part of the Adelaide Hills Interpretation Plan. Key Messages of the Adelaide Hills 'romance' branding will continue to be used in promoting the museum's activities and strengthen alliance with the Hills brand.
- In November 2013 museum Director Marianne Norman joined the Adelaide Hills Tourism Committee. The purpose of the committee is to develop and implement the Adelaide Hills Tourism Regional Strategic Plan and annual core priorities, and help achieve the State's overall goals of creating jobs for South Australians by sustaining a profitable industry, with a focus on visitor numbers, greater length of stay and yield.

Hostel Stories, documenting the experiences of those migrants to South Australia who passed through the state's migrant hostels. Discovery grant.
Outcomes: monograph, exhibition and website
- With the University of Adelaide, Australian Centre for Visualisation Technology

Again, this year museum volunteer, former Holden employee and corporate historian Stewart Underwood continued to assist the Corporate Affairs Department staff of Holden in answering external and internal historical questions.
- The opening of the George Brooke's Library, in October 2013, by Professor Julian McNeil makes the substantial reference collection of George Brookes available to researchers at the Motor Museum.
- The South Australian Maritime Museum continued its research into Torrens Island Quarantine Station. It led an archaeological survey of the graveyard, used ground penetrating radar as a non-invasive way to determine the number of graves on the site. The museum recorded oral histories with people who had lived at the site as families of staff or as passengers in quarantine.

Program outcomes 2013–14

Objective 5: Resources

Online

Digital Asset Management System (DAMS)

Management of digital collections and information has been an ongoing concern for History SA with limited capacity to link the existing KE-Emu collections database and other management systems to online platforms. The lack of a DAM System limits the capacity to share History SA collections and data, and the current manual method of entering collections data in more than one platform leads to duplication of tasks and the risk of inconsistency in data.

Web Developer Oliver Scholey has begun scoping the requirements for a DAM System to meet History SA needs. This includes initial analysis of KE-Emu capacity to interface with a DAM System. Oliver Scholey liaised with South Australian Museum staff to discuss their own DAMS scoping. He will be meeting with staff from several other institutions to compare DAMS platform implementation and gather advice on what might best meet History SA needs.

Website hosting

History SA has completed transition from GLO Digital hosting to Internode hosting. This is in line with our ongoing work towards meeting OCIO requirements. History SA now manages the maintenance and support of our website hosting, which provides us with greater flexibility to host new online content. It has also reduced costs, along with consolidation and rationalisation of domain management, centralising control of History SA's online presence.

Strategic planning

History SA

- Organisation-wide strategic planning was conducted in September 2013 and in April 2014. All program areas were reviewed and new goals identified.
- Divisional strategic planning meetings were held and Business Plans were updated accordingly.

South Australian Maritime Museum

- Arts SA and the Heritage Unit of the Department of Planning, Transport and Infrastructure funded major work replacing the corrugated iron roofs on the South Australian Maritime Museum's Bond Store exhibition building. The work addressed long-standing problems of leaking to provide security for the museum's collection and for the 1850s heritage building.

National Motor Museum

- The museum's shop sales were again excellent this year, thanks to Business Manager Sue Wheeler and the team of museum officers. Strong income across all lines helped to offset increased operational costs.
- A staff amenities infrastructure upgrade project, separately funded by Arts SA, continued with half the Birdwood Mill (the original 1857 mill) having heating installed.

MARGARET ANDERSON
Chief Executive Officer

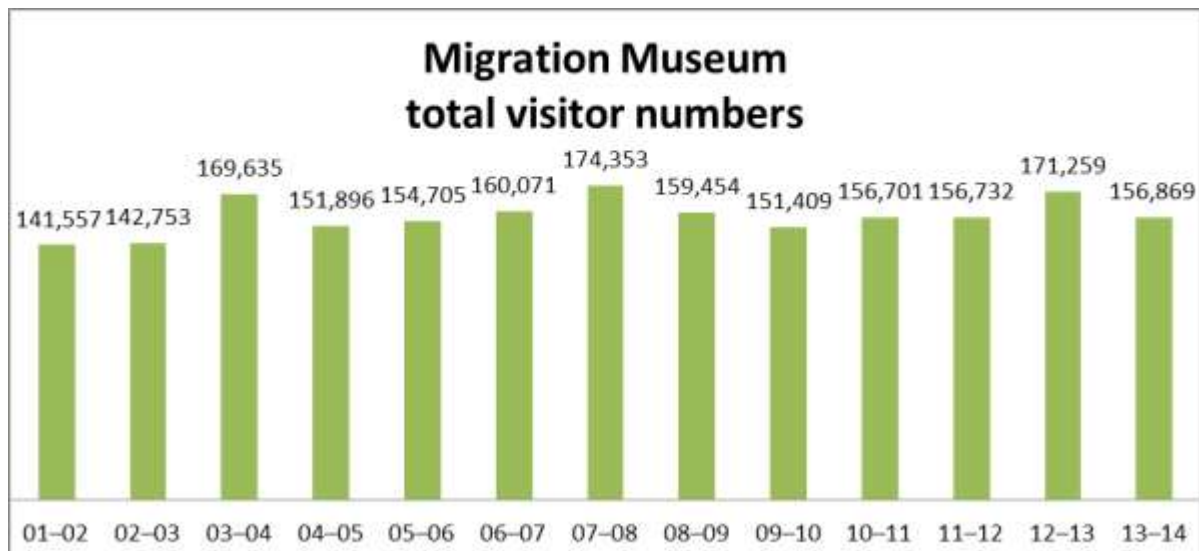

Migration Museum

156 869 visitors experienced the Migration Museum during 2013–14.

Nine exhibitions were presented during the year:

- Hostel Stories: Migrant Lives
- Cultural Harmonies: musical notes from the Migration Museum collection
- Refugees and Australia, 1972–2012
- Crossing Country: John McDouall Stuart
- Barwell Boys and Little Brothers Association
- Discover Bosnia and Herzegovina
- From South Bhutan to South Australia
- Latvians Looking Back Looking Forward: the generation that followed the early Latvian settlers
- Lace Journey to South Australia

The Three Weddings and a Cook event, produced in close collaboration with the Malaysian Club of South Australia, was a successful part of the 2013 OzAsia Festival. It presented demonstrations of three wedding ceremonies, Chinese, Indian and Malay, along with cultural performances and demonstrations under a marquee in the Migration Museum courtyard. Celebrity chef, Poh Ling Yeow, presented cooking demonstrations in the Chapel area. Approximately 2000 people attended the museum on the day.

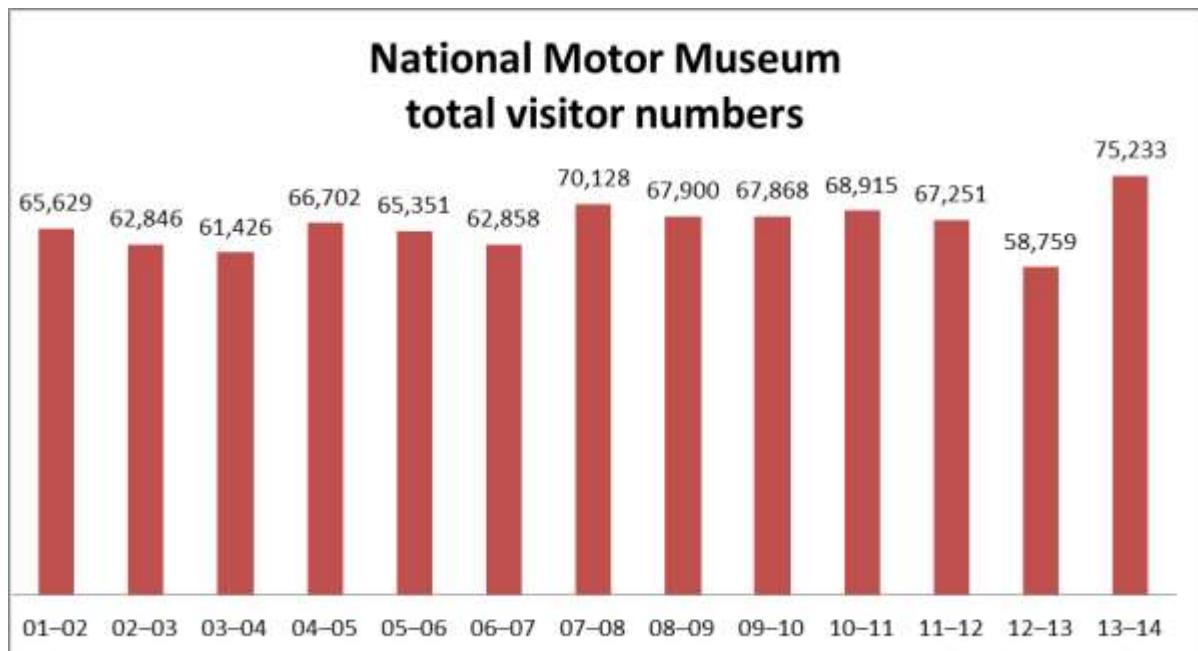

National Motor Museum

Visitors to the National Motor Museum totalled 75 233 in 2013–14, 28% more than the previous year. This reflected a mix of successful events. The greatest impact was experienced with the LEGO Bricks on Wheels Expo held on 4 and 5 January (6 180 visitors) and the Bricktopia LEGO Fan event held offsite in the Drill Hall at the Torrens Parade Ground on 17–18 May (8 708 people).

In addition to these events, the Bay to Birdwood Classic and Rock and Roll Rendezvous attracted 14 077 visitors to the museum. The museum's grounds were also used to host a series of other motoring events including Minis at the Mill and the 60th anniversary of the FJ Holden celebration, as well as numerous smaller car club events throughout the year. There is no doubt that weather has a huge influence on visitor numbers at events, and most of these events were fortunately held on fine days.

The new exhibition Sunburnt Country – Icons of Australian Motoring also had a positive influence, with marketing and word-of-mouth promotion attracting visitors.

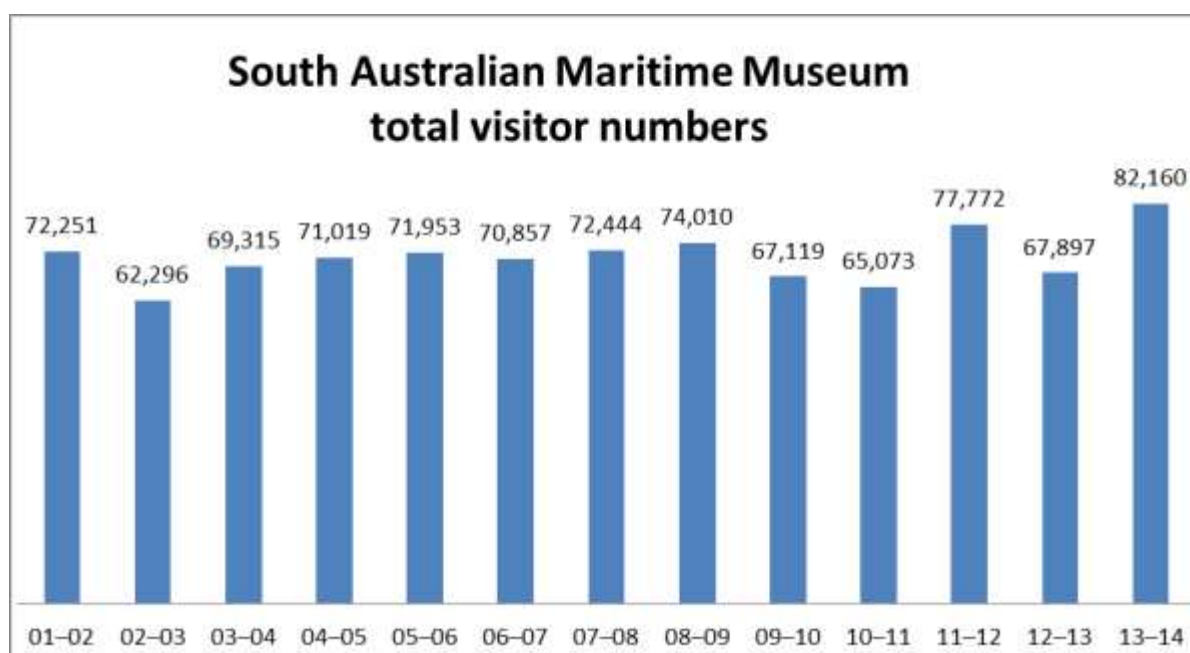

South Australian Maritime Museum

The South Australian Maritime Museum attracted 82 160 visitors during 2013–14, 21% more than the previous year. In addition to those visitors, another 39 000 people visited Port Adelaide's McLaren Wharf to see four visiting tall ships from 28 September to 1 October 2013, an event produced by the South Australian Maritime Museum.

The museum produced an active calendar of exhibitions, vacation programs, events, tours and education programs that included:

- Rough Medicine: Life and Death in the Age of Sail, an exhibition which explored shipboard medicine from 1621 to 1900
- The Last Windjammers which followed the voyages in 1949 of the last tall ships to carry grain from South Australia around Cape Horn to Europe
- Crayon Watercraft, a collection of drawings of coastal trading ships produced by children at Point Pearce Aboriginal Mission on Yorke Peninsula in 1939
- the Port Festival in which the Maritime Museum welcomed more than 12 000 visitors during the weekend of 19 and 20 October 2013
- expanded tours of Torrens Island Quarantine Station, Port Adelaide's Inner Harbor, and cruises on the steam tug Yelta and the naval launch Archie Badenoch
- education programs that attracted more than 22 347 students
- events that ranged from a breakfast recalling food eaten by Nicolas Baudin and Matthew Flinders, pantomime inspired by Peter Pan, Bastille Day and lectures in the pub.

- History SA also asks all museums registered under the Community Museums Program to acknowledge the Indigenous owners and custodians of the land on which their museums and communities are sited.
- About Time: South Australia's History Festival included a range of events about South Australian Aboriginal history, including: the Stolen Generations National Sorry Day, a lecture about the Task Force Aboriginal higher education program and a special event on Eyre Peninsula Solving the Mission Mystery.
- She said, he said: reading, writing and recording history, the joint 21st State History Conference and Biennial National Conference of the Oral History Association of Australia, held from 21 to 24 September 2013, had a strong Indigenous history stream, and the David Unaipon College of Indigenous Education and Research at the University of South Australia was a conference partner.

Dear Ms Crafter

The audit of the History Trust of South Australia for the year ended 30 June 2014

The audit of the accounts of the History Trust of South Australia for the year ended 30 June 2014 has been completed.

The scope of the audit covered the principal areas of the financial operations of the History Trust of South Australia and included the test review of systems and processes and internal controls and financial transactions.

The audit coverage and its conduct is directed to meeting statutory audit responsibilities under the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and also the requirements of Australian Auditing Standards.

In essence, two important outcomes result from the annual audit process, notably:

- the issue of the Independent Auditor's Report (IAR) on the integrity of the History Trust of South Australia financial statements
- the issue during the year or at the time of financial statement preparation and audit or close thereto, of audit management letters advising of deficiencies/weaknesses in areas of governance, financial system and process and control and financial reporting, together with recommendations for improvement in controls.

In this regard, returned herewith are the financial statements of History Trust of South Australia together with the IAR, which is unmodified.

For Official Use Only

There were no matters arising from the audit that warranted a management letter. Some minor matters were discussed and resolved during the course of the audit.

In my opinion, the controls exercised by the History Trust of South Australia in relation to the receipt, expenditure and investment of money, the acquisition and disposal of property, and the incurring of liabilities are sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that the financial transactions of the History Trust of South Australia have been conducted properly and in accordance with law.

Finally, I would like to express my appreciation to the management and staff of History Trust of South Australia in providing assistance during the year to my officers in the conduct of the annual audit.

Yours sincerely

S O'Neill

To the Chair
History Trust of South Australia

As required by section 31(1)(b) of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and section 17(3) of the History Trust of South Australia Act 1981, I have audited the accompanying financial report of the History Trust of South Australia and the consolidated entity comprising the History Trust of South Australia and its controlled entities for the financial year ended 30 June 2014. The financial report comprises:

- a Statement of Comprehensive Income for the year ended 30 June 2014
- a Statement of Financial Position as at 30 June 2014
- a Statement of Changes in Equity for the year ended 30 June 2014
- a Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended 30 June 2014
- notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information
- a Certificate from the Chair, Chief Executive Officer and the Business Manager.

The financial report comprises the History Trust of South Australia and the entities it controlled at the year's end or from time to time during the financial year.

The Trust's Responsibility for the Financial Report

The members of the Trust are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the Treasurer's Instructions promulgated under the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and Australian Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as the members of the Trust determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on the audit. The audit was conducted in accordance with the requirements of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and Australian Auditing Standards. The auditing standards require that the auditor comply with relevant ethical requirements and that the auditor plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the members of the Trust, as well as the overall presentation of the financial report.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial report gives a true and fair view of the financial position of the History Trust of South Australia and its controlled entities as at 30 June 2014, their financial performance and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the Treasurer's Instructions promulgated under the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and Australian Accounting Standards.

The Trust is charged with the management of the History Trust of South Australia, as prescribed under the History Trust of South Australia Act 1981.

The Trust's principal source of funds consists of grants from the State Government.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

a) Statement of compliance

The Trust has prepared these financial statements in compliance with section 23 of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987.

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements. The accounts have been prepared in accordance with relevant Australian Accounting Standards and Treasurer's Instructions and Accounting Policy Statements promulgated under the provision of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987.

The Trust has applied Australian Accounting Standards that are applicable to not-for-profit entities, as the trust is a not-for-profit entity.

Australian Accounting Standards and interpretations that have recently been issued or amended but are not yet effective have not been adopted by the Trust for the reporting period ending 30 June 2014.

b) Basis of preparation

The preparation of the financial statements requires:

- the use of certain accounting estimates and requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Trust's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, these are outlined in the applicable notes;
- accounting policies are selected and applied in a manner which ensures that the resulting financial information satisfies the concepts of relevance and reliability, thereby ensuring that the substance of the underlying transactions or other events are reported; and
- compliance with Accounting Policy Statements issued pursuant to section 41 of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987. In the interest of public accountability and transparency the accounting policy statements require the following note disclosures, which have been included in this financial report:
 - a) revenues, expenses, financial assets and liabilities where the counterparty/transaction is with an entity within the SA Government as at reporting date, classified according to their nature. A threshold of $100 000 for separate identification of these items applies;

 - c) board member and remuneration information, where a board member is entitled to receive income from membership other than a direct out-of-pocket reimbursement.

The Trust's Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Financial Position, and Statement of Changes in Equity have been prepared on an accrual basis and are in accordance with the historical cost convention, except for certain assets that were valued in accordance with the valuation policy applicable.

The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared on a cash basis.

The financial statements have been prepared based on a twelve month period and presented in Australian currency.

The accounting policies set out below have been applied in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2014 and the comparative information presented.

c) Reporting Entity

The History Trust of South Australia is a statutory authority established pursuant to the History Trust of South Australia Act 1981.

The Migration Museum Foundation Incorporated was registered in 1999-2000 and History Trust of South Australia Foundation Incorporated was registered during 2013-2014.

The financial statements have been prepared by combining the financial statements of all entities that comprise the consolidated entity being the Trust and the Migration Museum Foundation Incorporated and History Trust of South Australia Foundation Incorporated, in accordance with AASB 127 Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements. A list of controlled entities is at note 29. Consistent accounting policies have been applied and all inter-entity balances and transactions arising within the consolidated entity have been eliminated in full.

d) Comparative information

The presentation and classification of items in the financial statements are consistent with prior periods except where specific revised accounting standards and/or accounting policy statements have required a change.

Where presentation or classification of items in the financial statements have been amended, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation or classification in these financial statements unless impractical.

The restated comparative amounts do not replace the original financial statement for the preceding period.

Revaluation of heritage collections in 2012-2013 have been corrected in 2013-2014 and prior year period balances have been restated accordingly.

e) Rounding

All amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes have been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars ($'000), unless otherwise stated.

f) Taxation

The Trust is not subject to income tax. The Trust is liable for payroll tax, fringe benefits tax, goods and services tax (GST), emergency services levy and local government rates.

Income, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except when the GST incurred on a purchase of goods or services is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office, in which case the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item applicable.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to the Australian Taxation Office is not included as part of receivables or payables in the Statement of Financial Position as the Trust is a member of an approved GST group of which Arts SA, a division of the Department of Premier and Cabinet, is responsible for the remittance and collection of GST. There are no cash flows relating to GST transactions with the Australian Taxation Office in the Statement of Cash Flows.

Unrecognised contractual commitments and contingencies are disclosed net of the amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to the Australian Taxation Office. If GST is not payable to, or recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office, the commitments and contingencies are disclosed on a gross basis.

g) Income

Income is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the flow of economic benefits to the Trust will occur and can be reliably measured.

Income has been aggregated according to their nature and has not been offset unless required or permitted by a specific accounting standard, or where offsetting reflects the substance of the transaction or other event.

The notes accompanying the financial statements disclose income where the counterparty/transaction is with an entity within the SA Government as at the reporting date, classified according to their nature.

Transactions with SA Government entities below the threshold of $100,000 have been included with the non-government transactions, classified according to their nature.

The following are specific recognition criteria;

Fees and charges

Revenues from fees and charges are derived from the provisions of goods and services to other SA government agencies and to the public. This revenue is recognised upon delivery of the service to the clients or by reference to the stage of completion.

Interest revenue

Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

Resources received free of charge

Resources received free of charge are recorded as income and expenditure in the Statement of Comprehensive Income at the fair value.

Under an arrangement with Arts SA and Artlab Australia, divisions of the Department of Premier and Cabinet, Artlab Australia receives SA Government appropriation to perform conservation services on the Trust's heritage collections. The Value of this work performed is recognised as resources received free of charge in income (Note 13) and a corresponding amount included as conservation expenditure in supplies and services (Note 6).

Under an arrangement with the Services Division of the Department of the Premier and Cabinet, financial services is recognised as resources received free of charge in income (Note 13) and a corresponding amount included as a business services charge in supplies and services (Note 6)

Bequests and donations

Bequests and donations are recognised as income in the period in which the Trust obtains control over the income.

Donated heritage assets are initially recognised at their fair value, as income (note 13) and as an asset in heritage collections (note 18), in accordance with Accounting Policy Framework III Asset Accounting Framework, APS 2.12.

Other income

Other income consists of grants, sponsorships and other receipts. Grants and sponsorships are recognised as income in the period in which the Trust obtains control over the income. Control over this income is normally obtained upon receipts.

Revenues from SA Government

Revenues from SA Government are recognised as revenue when the Trust obtains control over the funding. Control over appropriations is normally obtained upon receipt.

h) Expenses

Expenses are recognised to the extent that it is probable that the flow of economic benefits from the Trust will occur and can be reliably measured.

Expenses have been aggregated according to their nature and have not been offset unless required or permitted by a specific Accounting Standard, or where offsetting reflects the substance of the transaction or other event.

The notes accompanying the financial statements disclose expenses where the counterparty/transaction is with an entity with the SA Government as at the reporting date, classified according to their nature.

Transactions with SA Government entities below the threshold of $100,000 have been included with the non-government transaction, classified according to their nature.

The following are specific recognition criteria:

Employee benefits expenses

Employee benefit expenses include all costs related to employment including wages and salaries, non-monetary benefits and leave entitlements. These are recognised when incurred.

Superannuation

The amount charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income represents the contributions made by the Trust to the superannuation plan in respect of current services of current History SA staff. The Department of Treasury and Finance centrally recognises the superannuation liability in the whole of government financial statements.

Depreciation

All non-current assets which have limited useful lives, are systematically depreciated over their useful lives in a manner that reflects the consumption of their service potential. Depreciation is applied to assets such as property, plant and equipment.

Assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed and adjusted if appropriate, on an annual basis.

Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are accounted for prospectively by changing the time period or method, as appropriate, which is a change in accounting estimate.

Heritage collections and land have unlimited useful lives. Their future economic benefits have not been consumed during the financial year. Therefore no depreciation is recognised in respect of these assets.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis over the estimated useful life of the following classes of assets as follows:

Class of asset	Useful life (years)
Buildings and Improvements	20 to 100
Plant and Equipment	3 to 15

Grants

For contributions payable, the contribution will be recognised as a liability and expense when the entity has a present obligation to pay the contribution and the expense recognition criteria are met.

All contributions paid by the Trust have been contributions with unconditional stipulations attached.

i) Current and non-current classification

Assets and liabilities are characterised as either current or non-current in nature. Assets and liabilities that are sold, consumed or realised as part of the normal operating cycle even when they are not expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting date have been classified as current assets or current liabilities. All other assets and liabilities are classified as non-current.

j) Assets

Assets have been classified according to their nature and have not been offset unless required or permitted by a specific accounting standard, or where offsetting reflects the substance of the transaction or other event.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the Statement of Financial Position includes cash at bank and on hand.

Cash is measured at nominal value.

Receivables

Receivables include amounts receivable from goods and services and other accruals.

Receivables arise in the normal course of selling goods and services to other government agencies and to the public. Receivables are generally settled within 30 days after the issue of an invoice or the goods/services have been provided under a contractual arrangement.

The Trust determines the provision for doubtful debts based on a review of balances within receivables that are unlikely to be collected. These are generally receivables that are 90 days or more overdue.

Inventories

Inventories include goods and other property held for either sale or distribution at no or nominal cost in the ordinary course of business.

Investments

Investments are brought to account at cost in accordance with Accounting Policy Framework IV Financial Asset and Liabilities Framework.

Non-current assets

Acquisition and recognition

Non-current assets are initially recorded at cost or at the value of any liabilities assumed, plus any incidental cost involved with the acquisition. Non-current assets are subsequently measured at fair value less accumulated depreciation.

Where assets are acquired at no value, or minimal value, they are recorded at their fair value in the Statement of Financial Position.

All non-current assets with a value equal to or in excess of $5,000 are capitalised.

Revaluation of non-current assets

Land, buildings and heritage collections are revalued every five years. However, if at any time management considers that the carrying amount of an asset materially differs from its fair value, then the asset will be revalued regardless of when the last valuation took place. Non-current assets that are acquired between revaluations are held at cost until the next valuation, where they are then revalued to fair value.

Land and buildings

Land and buildings have been valued at fair value. Independent valuations of land and buildings were determined as at 30 June 2014 by Fred Taormina, Valcorp Australia Pty Ltd.

Plant and equipment

All items of plant and equipment had a 'fair value at the time of acquisition that was less than $1 million or had an estimated useful life that was less than three years', and have not been revalued in accordance with Accounting Policy Framework III Asset Accounting Framework. The carrying value of these items are deemed to approximate fair value.

Heritage collections

The heritage collections are large and diverse. They include many items that are complex to value given considerations of market value and their unique representation of South Australia's social history.

The heritage collections have been independently valued as follows:

- | | |
|---|---|
| • National Motor Museum Collection | 30 June 2013 by Antony Davies |
| • South Australian Maritime Museum Collection | 30 June 2013 by Fred Taormina (Valcorp Australia Pty Ltd), Christine Courtney (Sea Witch), Anthony Hurl (Tusmore Antiques), Artemis Marine and Michel Laroche |
| • Migration Museum Collection | 30 June 2014 by Anthony Harris
30 June 2013 by Anthony Hurl (Tusmore Antiques) and Adam Dutkiewicz |
| • Directorate Collection | 30 June 2010 by Anthony Hurl (Tusmore Antiques) |

These valuers specialise in the valuation of heritage collections.

Fair value measurement

AASB 13 defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants, the principal or most advantageous market, at the measurement date.

The Trust classifies fair value measurement using the following fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs in making the measurements, based on the data and assumptions used in the most recent revaluations

Level 1 – traded in active markets and is based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at measurement date.

Level 2 – not traded in an active market and are derived from inputs (inputs other than quoted prices included with level 1) that are observable for the asset, either directly and indirectly.

Level 3 – not traded in an active market and are derived from unobservable inputs.

The valuation processes and fair value changes are reviewed by Business Manager at each reporting date.

Non-financial assets

In determining fair value, the Trust has taken into account the characteristic of the asset (e.g. condition and location of the asset and any restrictions on the sale or use of the asset); and the asset's highest and best use (that is physically possible, legally permissible, financially feasible).

The Trust's current use is the highest and best use of the asset unless other factors suggest an alternative use is feasible. As the Trust did not identify any factors to suggest an alternative use, fair value measurement was based on current use.

Refer to Note 19 for disclosure regarding fair value measurement techniques and inputs used to develop fair value measurements for non-financial assets.

Financial assets/liabilities

The Trust does not recognise any financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value.

Impairment

All non-current assets have been tested for indication of impairment at reporting date. Where there is indication of impairment, the recoverable amount is estimated. An amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount is recorded as an impairment loss. For revalued assets, an impairment loss is offset against the respective asset revaluation surplus.

There were no indications of impairment as at 30 June 2014

Asset revaluation surplus

Any revaluation increment is credited to the asset revaluation surplus, except to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease of the same asset class previously recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, in which case the increase is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Any revaluation decrease is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, except to the extent that it offsets a previous revaluation increase for the same asset class, in which case the decrease is debited directly to the asset revaluation surplus to the extent of the credit balance existing in revaluation surplus for that asset class.

k) Liabilities

Liabilities have been classified according to their nature and have not been offset unless required or permitted by a specific accounting standard, or where offsetting reflects the substance of the transaction or other event.

Payables

Payables include creditors, accrued expenses and employment on-costs.

Creditors represent the amounts owing for goods and services received prior to the end of the reporting period that are unpaid at the end of the reporting period. Creditors include all unpaid invoices received relating to the normal operations of the Trust.

Accrued expenses represent goods and services provided by other parties during the period that are unpaid at the end of the reporting period and where an invoice has not been received.

All payables are measured at their nominal amount and are normally settled within 30 days from the date of the invoice or date the invoice is first received.

Employee benefits on-costs include payroll tax and superannuation contributions in respect to outstanding liabilities for salaries and wages, long service leave, annual leave and skills and experience retention leave.

The Trust makes contributions to the SA Government superannuation schemes. There is no liability for payments to beneficiaries as they have been assumed by the respective superannuation schemes. The only liability outstanding at reporting date relates to any contributions due but not yet paid to the South Australian Superannuation Board.

Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is or contains a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement.

The Trust has entered into operating leases.

Operating Leases

The Trust has entered into a number of operating lease agreements for vehicles where the lessors effectively retain the entire risks and benefits incidental to ownership of the items held under the operating leases.

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in the Statement of Comprehensive Income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The straight-line basis is representative of the pattern of benefits derived from the leased assets.

Employee benefits

These benefits accrue for employee as a result of services provided up to the reporting date that remain unpaid. Long-term employee benefits are measured at present value and short-term employee benefits are measured at nominal amounts.

Salaries, wages, annual leave, skills and experience retention leave and sick leave

The liability for salaries and wages is measured as the amount unpaid at the reporting date at remuneration rates current at reporting date.

The annual leave liability and the skills and experience retention leave liability is expected to be payable within twelve months and is measured at the undiscounted amount expected to be paid.

No provision has been made for sick leave as all sick leave is non-vesting and the average sick leave taken in future years by employees is estimated to be less than the annual entitlement of sick leave.

Long service leave

The liability for long service leave is measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method.

The estimated liability for long service leave is based on actuarial assumptions over expected future salary and wage levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. These assumptions are based on employee data over SA Government entities.

Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds with duration at match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Trust has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

When the Trust expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income net of any reimbursement.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted for the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

The workers compensation provision is an actuarial estimate of the outstanding liability as at 30 June 2014 provided by a consulting actuary engaged through the Public Sector Workforce Relations Division of the Department of Premier and Cabinet. The provision is for the estimated cost of ongoing payments to employees as required under current legislation.

The Trust is responsible for the payments of workers compensation claims.

l) Unrecognised contractual commitments

Commitments include operating and outsourcing arrangements arising from contractual or statutory sources and are disclosed at their nominal value.

Unrecognised contractual commitments are disclosed net of the amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to the Australian Taxation Office. If GST is not payable to, or recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office, the commitments are disclosed on a gross basis.

m) Insurance

The Trust has arranged, through the South Australian Government Financing Authority SAICORP division, to insure all major risks of the Trust. The excess payable under this arrangement varies depending on each class of insurance held.

Note 3. New and revised accounting standards and policies

The Trust did not voluntarily change any of its accounting policies during 2013-14.

In accordance with the new AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement, which became effective for the first time in 2013-14, the Trust has:

- Reviewed its fair valuation techniques (both internal estimates and independent valuation appraisal) for non-financial assets to ensure they are consistent with standard. Previously, the Trust has used the cost approach or the market approach to determine fair value. The Trust will continue to measure its non-financial assets using either the cost or market approach. The application of AASB 13 has not had a material impact on the fair value measurements; and
- Included additional disclosures when required to assist users in assessing the valuation techniques and inputs used to ascertain fair value measurements used for asset and liability measures.

Fair value hierarchy and other information is provided in Notes 18 and 19

Note 4. Activities of the Trust

Activities of the Trust have not been separately disclosed as the Trust has one identifiable major activity, being the maintenance and preservation of the state's historical collections and raising community awareness of the state's history.

Note 19. Fair value measurement

Fair value hierarchy

The fair value of non-financial assets must be estimated for recognition and measurement or for disclosure purposes. The Trust categorises non-financial assets measured at fair value into hierarchy based on the level of inputs use in measurement.

Fair value measurements recognised in the Statement of Financial Positions are categorised into the following levels as at 30 June 2014:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities that the entity can access at measurement date.

Level 2: Input other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability

The Trust had no valuations categorised into level 1.

Fair value measurement at 30 June 2014

Recurring fair value measurements	Level 2 input $'000	Level 3 inputs $'000	Fair Value 2014 $'000
Non-financial assets
Land	2 370	980	3 350
Buildings	-	14 420	14 420
Plant and equipment	-	77	77
Heritage collections	5 220	8 652	13 872
Total recurring fair value measurements	7 590	24 129	31 719

The Trust did not measure any non-financial assets at fair value on a non- recurring basis as at 30 June 2014.

Fair value measurement - highest and best use

The Trust's assets are held for preservation, cultural and heritage purposes and not held for the purposes of deriving a profit. The current use of all controlled assets is considered their highest and best use.

There were no transfers of assets between 1 and 2 fair value hierarchy levels in 2014. The Trust policy is to recognised transfer in and out of fair value levels as at the end of the reporting period

The Trust's policy for determining when transfers between levels are deemed to have occurred can be found in Note 1.

Valuation technique and inputs

Valuation techniques used to derive level 2 and 3 fair values are at note 2j. There were no changes in valuation techniques during 2014.

The following table details quantitative information about fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs (level 3).

Quantitative information about fair value measurement using significant unobservable inputs for Category Level 3.

Description:	Valuation technique(s)	Unobservable Inputs	Range (Weighted average)
Land	Market approach	Valuer's adjustment to market price	75.8%
Buildings	Cost approach	Current replacement cost	150 – 3760 $m/2
	Cost approach	Useful Life	25 – 100 years
Heritage Collections	Market approach	Valuer's adjustment to market price	(30%) – 30%
	Cost approach	Consumed economic benefit/Obsolescence of asset	1.0% per annum
Plant and Equipment	Cost approach	Cost
	Cost approach	Useful Life	3 – 15 years

Total recurring fair value measurements

Significant Level 3 inputs utilized by the entity are derived and evaluated as follows:

Land

Fair value of land with restricted use was determined using an adjusted market price of surrounding un-restricted land

Buildings

Buildings have been estimated by the written-down replacement cost of a modern equivalent reproduction or comparable asset.

Plant and equipment

As per Accounting Policy Framework III, Asset Accounting Framework paragraph APS 3.3 assets below the revaluation threshold are deemed to have been revalued to their fair values immediately following recognition at cost.

Useful lives have been determined by management based on professional judgement with regard to asset condition and technical and commercial obsolescence.

Heritage collections – market approach

Where there were sufficient observable transactions of similar assets to the subject asset (generally in secondhand markets), the market approach has been utilised to determine fair value. Inputs to the fair value measurement are considered level 2 in the fair value hierarchy as they have been observed from the market and the valuer has made relatively minor adjustments for differences in asset characteristics. Where possible, the valuations were based on recent market transactions for similar cultural and heritage collections and may include adjustment for factors specific to each asset including size, rarity, quality, condition, historical significance and associated restrictions.

Heritage collections – cost approach

Assets that do not transact with enough frequency or transparency to develop objective opinions of value from observable market evidence have been measured utilising the Cost approach. Under this approach the estimated cost to replace the asset is calculated and then adjusted to take into account its obsolescence. Asset obsolescence has been determined based on professional judgement regarding physical, economic and external obsolescence factors relevant to the asset under consideration.

The following table is a reconciliation of fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3).

As a result of an actuarial assessment performed by Department of Treasury and Finance, the percentage of the proportion of long service leave taken as leave has remained the 2013 rate of 40% and the average factor for the calculation of employer superannuation on-cost has increased from 2013 rate of 10.2% to 2014 rate of 10.3%. These rates are used in the employment on-cost calculation.

The financial effect of the change in employee on-costs and employee benefits expense is immaterial.

AASB 119 contains the calculation methodology for long service leave liability. This year, an actuarial assessment performed by the Department of Treasury and Finance was used to calculate the liability rather than using a short hand measurement technique for the calculation of the liability.

AASB119 requires the use of the yield on long term Commonwealth Government bonds as the discount rate in the measurement of the long service leave liability. The yield on long term Commonwealth Government bonds has decreased from 2013 (3.75%) to 2014 (3.5%).

This decrease in the bond yield, which is used as the rate to discount future long service cash flows, results in an increase or decrease in the reported long service leave liability.

The net financial effect of the changes in methodology and actuarial assumptions in the current financial year is an increase in the long service liability of $13,000 and the employee benefit expense of $13,000. The impact on future periods is impracticable to estimate as the long service leave liability is calculated using a number of assumptions – a key assumption is the long-term discount rate.

The actuarial assessment performed by the Department of Treasury and Finance left the salary inflation rate at 4%. As a result, there is no net financial effect resulting from change in the salary inflation rate.

Credit Risk Exposure

The Trust's maximum exposure to credit risk at reporting date in relation to financial assets is the carrying amount of those assets as indicated on the Statement of Financial Position. The Trust has no significant exposures to any concentrations of credit risk.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises where the Trust is unable to meet its financial obligations as they are due to be settled. The Trust is funded principally from appropriation by SA Government. The Trust works with the Department of Treasury and Finance to determine the cash flows associated with its Government approved program of work and to ensure funding is provided through SA Government budgetary processes to meet the expected cashflows. The Trust settles undisputed accounts within 30 days from the date of the invoice or date the invoice is first received. In the event of a dispute, payment is made 30 days from resolution. The Trusts exposure to liquidity risk is insignificant based on past experience.

Market risk

Market risk for the Trust is primarily through interest rate risk. This risk is not considered material.

Maturity Analysis

All financial assets and financial liabilities are receivable/payable within one year.

Sensitivity disclosure analysis

A sensitivity analysis has not been undertaken for the interest rate risk of the Trust as it has been determined the possible impact on the Statement of Comprehensive Income or total equity from fluctuations in interest rates is immaterial.
